A Gunge.

One of the best ways of judging of an advertisement's pulling power is to put yourself in the place of the prospective purchaser and gauge the effect of the advertisement upon yourself. If it produces in your mind a sort of desire to try the goods-a degree of curiosity about them, whetted by the manner of talking about them in the advertisement—then it is pretty fair to conclude that the advertisement out to bring results, and vice versa.-Grocery World:

Winchester Court,

About 300 cattle on the market; the demand was fair and nearly all were sold. Some smooth 1.000-lb. steers brought 37 cents, which was the highest price. Two lots of 900lbs. sold for $3.60 and $3.65. Some common to fair oxen, weight 1,200 lbs., brought 31c.; common light heifers brought 21c., better ones, 21 to 3e.; 1,200 lb. bulls, good ones, 3c., best fat cows, 3c.; common ones 21d.; several lots of hogs sold for 3c. - Winchester Democrat.

If we are rightly informed, two horse traders of the Dry Ridge neighborhood are having a pretty hard job in making the exchange of horses which they traded the latter part of last week. The following account was given us for publication: On last Saturday nigt at meeting, on Dry Ridge, two jockeys traded herses, sight unseen, and were to meet af certain point to make the exchange. Both are said to bave started to the place they were to exclange and neither got there. One jockey's horse was not able to make it to the road but fell down three times in the attempt. The otle er jockey's horse was stone blind and was subject to having fits, which bas prevented him from delivering his horse.
